

PRESS RELEASE

National Ornamental & Miscellaneous Metals Association

March 18, 2011
RELEASE IMMEDIATELY

Contact: Todd Daniel
Executive Director
(888) 516-8585, ext. 102
todd@nomma.org

DeAngelis Iron Work Inc. of South Easton, MA Wins Awards in International Metalcraft Competition

FAYETTEVILLE, GA — DeAngelis Iron Work Inc. of P.O. Box 350, South Easton has won an award(s) for outstanding craftsmanship in an international competition sponsored by the National Ornamental & Miscellaneous Metals Association (NOMMA). The event was open to over 700 member firms throughout the U.S. and in 12 foreign countries.

DeAngelis Iron Work Inc. received the following award(s):

SILVER- Gates/Doors - Forged

GOLD- Restoration

The presentation was made at a special banquet in New Orleans, LA, March 19, during NOMMA's 53rd annual conference. The Ernest Wiemann Top Job Awards Competition is an annual contest that recognizes outstanding work in the ornamental and miscellaneous metals industry.

To win an award, entrants must submit photos and a description of their work. This material is then publicly displayed in a gallery where NOMMA member firms then vote. Winning a Top Job award has special meaning, since it represents a "voice of approval" from industry peers.

The firm's Chris Connelly is a past NOMMA president. To reach the company, call 508-238-4310.

-30-

Note to Editors: To View the winning entry, visit <http://tinyurl.com/4g97edt>